

CREDIT FOR REMEDIATION

Undergraduate students may enroll in college preparatory course work (001-099) for credit, but the credit will not be counted as part of the 120-132 units required for graduation. Students will be allowed to enroll in college preparatory courses only if their performance on a screening test indicates pre-collegiate work is necessary. Students are not allowed to challenge college preparatory courses. Remedial courses will be offered on a "CR/NC" basis only. For further information regarding courses that may be considered as college preparatory, students should consult their advisor or the University Advisement Center (WH A-220).
